Chiropractors Raise 18,000 pairs of socks for Saskatchewan's Vulnerable

Throughout the months of October and November, Saskatchewan chiropractors have partnered with The Salvation Army to warm the feet of Saskatchewan's vulnerable people through the 3rd Annual Toasty Toes Sock Drive. Participating chiropractors' offices have been collecting donations of new pairs and packages of socks.

Socks are a basic clothing necessity, vital in keeping us warm and dry in the winter, and are an item that many of us may take for granted. Many people in our communities do not have access to socks, making their winters even more difficult.

The initial goal of this year's Toasty Toes Sock Drive was to collect 15,000 pairs of socks throughout the province. Saskatchewan chiropractors have surpassed that goal and collected over 18,000 pairs of socks, and $1,150.00 in donations towards other necessities of winter. "We would like to thank Saskatchewan residents for their sock donations, and our chiropractic community in Saskatchewan for their support of this very worthwhile cause," says Dr. Kevin Henbid, President of the Chiropractors' Association of Saskatchewan. In the past two years of the sock drive, 33,000 pairs of socks were collected.

These socks will be donated to The Salvation Army locations throughout the province and put to good use, including the Christmas Hamper program. "We are truly grateful for the sock drive, as it allows our units in fifteen communities across Saskatchewan to provide clean, dry socks to the most vulnerable, not only in the winter season, but year-round," says Heather Hedstrom of The Salvation Army.
